Product Vision Statement

- What :

Liaqaty is a fitness website that provides guided exercises, warm-up instructions, workout tracking, a calorie calculator, and reminders to drink water and take rest breaks.

- Who :

Liaqaty is designed for beginners in fitness and people who work out at home or at the gym. It helps users follow simple and safe exercise instructions, track their workouts and achievements, and calculate their calorie intake.

- Why :

Liaqaty was created to help people, especially beginners, exercise in a safer and more organized way by providing exercise guidance, workout tracking, calorie calculation, and reminders to drink water and take rest breaks in one platform.

Brief Project Description

Liaqaty is a fitness website designed to help users improve their physical fitness in a simple and organized way. The website provides a variety of exercises with instructions on how to perform them, as well as warm-up exercises before starting a workout. It also allows users to track completed workouts, calculate calories, and receive reminders to drink water and take rest breaks. The website brings these features together in one easy-to-use platform to help users stay consistent with their workout routines and achieve their fitness goals.
